HONGKONG, OCTOBER 4TH, 1907.

The success of the search for traces of the Sully, now believed to have been lost in the last typhoon, on its way to Hongkong, adds one more to the long list of painful mysteries of seafaring. It would have been so much more satisfactory, to the living at any rate, if there could have been discovered even the slightest clue to the actual fate of the crew of the missing ship. So many things may have happened. Survivors may have eluded the maw of the deep, if only for a time. Islands and rocks are so numerous on these coasts, that no one can say with certainty that there may not have been or be still a shipwrecked survivor or two in dire need. The fate of a helpless white man, cast ashore in an unfeathered and starving condition on some inhospitable beach, is not pleasant to contemplate. The natives are sometimes far from being Samaritans, and even in the still more likely event of there being no human beings at all to interfere with them, the white man so circumstanced would still be in evil case. We cannot doubt for a moment that the search was as thorough as was humanly possible, that it was not abandoned until there was really no hope left of rendering assistance or of ascertaining with as much certainty as possible the melancholy facts. It occurs to us that more might be done than is done, as a general rule. If news comes of actual opportunities of rescue, there is never any hesitation or delay in going to do what can be done; and never is the fate of our fellow men left in more doubt than the disturbed elements compel. We suggest, however, that the claims of humanity require more than this. Why wait until assistance is asked for or desisted by arriving intelligence. If after every typhoon was over, the torpedo-boats and other fast war craft in harbour were to sally forth, north, south, and east, patrolling the various routes and keeping a good look-out, it seems quite certain they would find numerous opportunities of being of use, and there would be at any rate less risk of valuable lives being thrown away in the utter loneliness that seems to have been the fate of the crew of the Sully. One day, two days, or more of exposure may be endured by hardy men clinging to bits of wreckage, but as the hours wear on, and no help appears, the will to live weakens pari passu with the advancement of physical fatigue, and exhaustion and death and total disappearance ensue where there might have been a rescue. The risk could be minimised so far as common sense naval requirements demand, and the extra expense would be compensated for by the experience and practice gained. We submit that our ships would be better so employed than loafing in the harbour, and their officers would feel better men and fill their uniforms more worthily so occupied than junketing in society ashore. Perhaps someone in authority will at least consider the suggestion for what it may be worth.

The French Mail of the 3rd September was delivered in London on the 2nd inst.

Sir Matthew Nathan, the new Governor of Natal, arrived at Durban on Sept. 1st, and was accorded an enthusiastic welcome.

The full text of the proposed Ordinance to amend the Law relating to Companies will appear on page 9 of our issue to-morrow (Saturday).

The Hon. Treasurer of the Alice Memorial and Affiliated Hospitals acknowledges with thanks the following donation to the funds of the Hospital:—J. Gray Scott $10.

When the great liner Lusitania left Liverpool she carried for the use of her passengers, 78,200lb. of flour, 124,000lb. of meat, 300,000lb. of tea, 10,140 fowls, 60,000lb. of fish, 100,000lb. of tallow, 45,000 oysters, 50,000 eggs, 900,000lb. of butter.

The official returns for the three months June-August show that while the total deliveries of British grown tea have declined over six million pounds against the corresponding period of last year, those of China growth have increased nearly 25 per cent.

Before Mr. C. D. Melbourne at the Police Court yesterday two natives, who were found guilty of stealing two boxes of merchandise from the Yakusaki Maru, were each sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labour.

Mr. John Graham, a centenarian, of Aspatia, Cumberland, whose death is announced, was born at sea while his parents were journeying from Whitehaven to the Isle of Man. He was married at Greta Green to Miss Jane Watson. Seven of his uncles fought at Waterloo.

The Cunard Company announces the reduction of its cabin rates on east bound liners. The fares on the Lucania and Campania are reduced to £15 1s., and on the Etirania and Umbria to £12. These are lower than the rates charged by the International Mercantile Marine Company. Other reductions are expected.

American cotton continues to harden in price. The new cotton season, commenced at much higher rates than usual. Some spinners fear that, owing to the increasing consumption in Lancashire, and throughout the world, the production this year will hardly equal the required quantity, especially in American kinds. The prospects hinge on a large American crop; but this is not assured.

The following letter has been received at the Colonial Secretary's Office from the Consul-General for Holland:—Ships or vessels arriving in Netherlands India from Hongkong are no longer subject to quarantine, the port of Hongkong being no longer declared infected with plague. The prohibition on importation of some articles is also cancelled so that goods can now be imported into Netherlands India.

The hearing of the case in which a Lance Corporal in the Royal Engineers was charged with disorderly conduct and with interfering with a motorman on a tramcar in such a way as to endanger passengers' lives, was concluded before Mr. F. A. H. Zealand at the Police Court yesterday. His Worship found the defendant guilty, and ordered him to pay a fine of $3 on the first charge and $15 on the second charge.

The Union Iron and Steel Company, which is the sole important rival of the Steel Trust, has failed. The explanation given is that the failure is due to the stringency in the American money market and to the number of liquid debts. The company was capitalised at 2,000,000 dol., but its interests are vastly greater than that sum represents. Several concerns subsidiary to the company are believed to be seriously affected by the failure. Immediately on the announcement of the failure on the Stock Exchange a nervous feeling set in, and many stocks declined in price.

The block on which so many Etionians have been swished has, it is stated, been stolen from the headmaster's room. An attempt has been made to keep the affair secret, and soon after the block disappeared another was put in its place. This is about the fourth time swishing blocks have been stolen from Etion.

In accordance with a custom dating from the time of Frederick the Great, any officer in the German Army who falls from his horse at a review is bound to offer a banquet to his brother officers in the regiment. As soon as he had risen from his fall the other day the Kaiser expressed his intention of carrying on the tradition.

The Sangari river is to be thrown open to all foreign vessels wishing to navigate its waters for the purpose of trade. The Russian Government is about to act in concert with the Chinese Government with a view to drawing up the regulations usual in such cases. The Japanese Government, out of consideration for Russia's wishes, has agreed to allow Russia to approach China in the matter.

The chief engineer of the Philippine Railways has little but praise for the qualities of the natives as railroad builders. Already, he says, his men have attained an efficiency almost, if not quite, equal to that of white workmen, working not in the Philippines or other tropical lands, but in the United States. This substantiates (says the "Engineering Magazine") what was learned in the construction of the Manila Streets Railway—that when properly handled, the natives can be safely relied upon to acquire themselves creditably.

Miss Palmer, a lady of wealth, who once acted with Sir Henry Irving, has arrived at New York, clad in sandals and a single garment fastened with a girdle. She is convinced, the "Mail" relates, that the age of reason will soon dawn when the world will go back to the tunic and sandals. "The corset," Miss Palmer said, "is a physical crime. So are long tight stockings. If mothers would adopt this costume, they would be healthier and their babies would grow up stronger and better looking."

Niagara Falls were gloriously illuminated on Sept. 4th, and the amazing spectacle of the dark tumbling, thundering waters lighted up by 36 enormous reflectors, aggregating 1,115,000,000 candle power, was witnessed by tens of thousands of admiring spectators. Powerful search-lights, whose power, like that of the entire illuminations, was derived from the Falls, twinkled their white, rose, green, orange, and blue tints upon the waters, producing a most inspiring and brilliant effect. The present scheme of illumination will probably attract sightseers from all parts of the world.

The Evening Continuation Classes are about to start shortly under the name Hongkong Technical College. The Technical College is now a Sub-Department of the Education Department. The Classes to be held are as follows:—(A) Engineering Section: Building Construction; Machine Drawing; Steam; Electricity and Magnetism; Applied Mechanics; Practical Mathematics; Field Survey. (B) Commerce Section: English; French; German; shorthand (including short course of typewriting); Bookkeeping (Elementary). (C) Science Section: Chemistry; Physics. Those marked with an asterisk are new.

"If you want to get on, lace lightly." This is the advice to girls in business given by a "lady secretary." Writing to a morning paper, she says:—"I was in an office with about twenty girls for three or four years—just one of the crowd. One winter, on the advice of a friend, I commenced light-lacing. My sleek twenty-four inch waist I laced in to nineteen inches at once, and found the sensation delightful. More than this, I soon saw my figure was attracting attention. I was called in by the manager to do some special work. That was the beginning. Now I am receiving many compliments and £4 a week and a bonus at Christmas, and I am sure my seventeen-inch waist started it. So my advice is—Don't spend your money on fancy blouses and cheap jewellery, but on really good corsets and plain, well-fitting bodices and skirts."

Amin-ol-Sultan, the Atabeg Asam, Premier and Minister of the Interior, was assassinated on Aug. 31st on leaving the National Council four revolver shots being fired at him. The Atabeg Asam was blamed early in August for being responsible for the weakness of the Persian defences in Azerbaijan, which permitted of the Russian attack on Urumiah, and was threatened with death if he did not quit the country. The murdered Persian Premier had, since his return to Persia a few months before, encountered considerable opposition from members of the National Council and from the Liberal section of the people, who felt that his tenancies were not sufficiently advanced. The opposition, taken in connection with the Tarco-Persian frontier incident, his attitude on which subject, was disapproved as lacking the necessary energy probably accounts for the deed. The late Premier left Persia three years ago owing to the displeasure of the late Shah with his negotiations for a Russian loan. He returned recently, and when the new Constitution came into force was appointed Premier. As already indicated, his Liberalism has, since taking office, not reached the expectations of his partisans.

SUPREME COURT.

Thursday, October 3rd.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

BEFORE MR. A. G. WISE (ACTING CHIEF JUSTICE).

A CROSS ACTION.

Wong Kam Po proceeded against the Kwong Cheung Loong firm, of 150 Portland Street, Mongkok for £173-5s, £73-5s being for damage done to the steam launch "Gertie" and $100 for loss sustained by the plaintiff by reason of the said damage. The Kwong Cheung firm counter-claimed for $241-7s for work and materials supplied to the "Gertie." Mr. Dixon of Messrs. Hastings and Hastings, appeared for the Kwong Cheung Loong and Mr. Otto Kong Siu for Wong Kam Po.

Mr. Dixon stated that in 1905 defendant had a number of parts of machinery which were suitable for making an engine for a steam launch. He took the pieces to the plaintiff's shop and asked that they be turned down, and $50 was agreed to as the price for this work. At the end of 1906 he bought the hull of a steam launch and asked plaintiffs to fit the parts and supply new parts so as to complete an engine for a steam launch. No price was agreed to as it was difficult to say exactly what was required. Plaintiff proceeded with the work and fitted the engine to the launch. The defendant paid $70 and $214-7s was still due. With regard to the counterclaim it included an amount for changing steel tubes for the boiler. That must be a mistake as his clients never had anything to do with a boiler and never had it on their premises.

His Lordship gave judgment for the Kwong Cheung Loong firm in one action for $137-6s and against the firm in the other for $123-5s.

A SENSATIONAL SUICIDE.

Yesterday morning Mr. Lan Chin-ting was found dead hanging from the staircase in his house in Caine Road. The previous day he had sent for a lawyer to draw up his will and apparently having put his affairs in order he decided to commit suicide. Certainly he had been dead for some hours when his body was discovered. It was known that deceased was greatly worried ever since he took over the construction of the big river bridge at Canton. He bequeathed thousands of dollars to the members of his family; $1,040,000 to be divided into 27 shares. Two days previously he sent to Canton for his coffin.

THE TRIAL OF ADSETTS.

FURTHER EVIDENCE.

The trial of William Hall Adsetts, who stands indicted on the charge of murdering Gertrude Dayton at the Hongkong Hotel on August 4th, was continued before Mr. C. D. Melbourne at the Police Court yesterday afternoon. Mr. Amos P. Wilder, American Consul-General was seated alongside his Worship.

Mr. G. E. Morrell (Crown Solicitor) prosecuted, and Mr. B. Harding appeared for the accused.

The Crown Solicitor informed his Worship that he expected the case would last all the week. He understood the defence was calling some witnesses too.

Ben Fell, employed at the American Consulate at Chafco, but now on leave, said he had known the man in the dock for some months as W. H. Adsetts. Witness saw the defendant when he came back to Chafco on 13th August last. He was arrested on information. First he was taken to the American Consulate where witness saw him when he was brought in. Witness was present when Adsetts was searched and saw all the property taken from his person.

There was other property in a travelling bag which witness saw opened. Besides several articles of clothing there were several silver toilet articles all of which were engraved with the name of "Gertrude." Witness identified the articles, one of which was not so engraved. Shows several articles (gold brooches, pins &c.), witness identified them as having been taken from the person of Adsetts. Among the articles was a Hongkong cent which witness could not identify, but it was the same as was taken from him. There was also a lady's gold watch, diamond set, and a gentleman's gold watch with the initials "W.H.E." engraved on the case. A number of pins, earrings and five pieces of English gold (produced) were found on Adsetts' person.

Numerous other articles of jewellery were identified by this witness. One steamship ticket from Manila to Tacoma and a ticket to be exchanged for a railway ticket from Tacoma to New York, both dated 16th July, 1907, fourteen money orders for $100 gold, each payable to Mrs. Huffer, were also identified by the witness as among the property found on Adsetts. Besides the property identified there were other articles of clothing etc., also two cameras, and some toilet articles the grip carried by the accused. All the articles described were taken from Adsetts in the American Consulate at Chafco in presence of witnesses.

The big or grip was found on a small Japanese steamer in Chafco harbour.

Cross-examined by Mr. Harding, witness said he had not seen the bag in accused's possession. The bag was brought in by Deputy Marshall Bellow. Witness was a clerk in the Consulate. He did not see the arrest of Adsetts. Bellow, who had been made Deputy Marshall that day, was now running a garden for sailors.

The Magistrate—I don't know what you want this for.

Mr. Harding—I want it to know what sort of man he was search of the accused. The re are several articles missing and I want to reclaim them.

Witness continuing said he could not swear that the articles produced were all that were found on Adsetts' person. Witness did not know if Bellow was still running a garden.

By the Court—When defendant was searched, what sort of condition was he in?

Witness—He appeared to be in an unconscious condition; he was lying on the floor.

Wong Cheung, a servant on the fourth floor of the Hongkong Hotel, said that on 14th August a murder was committed.

Mr. Morrell—Is it part of your duty to know who are in the rooms?

Mr. Harding—I object to the question my friend is suggesting.

At this stage there were repeated objections, by Mr. Harding which Mr. Morrell described as childish.

Mr. Harding asked that his objection be noted. Witness said he did not know so much when asked several questions, whereupon Mr. Morrell asked leave to treat the witness as hostile.

Did you give the police any information?—I don't know.

Have you seen Mr. Adsetts before?—Yes.

Now, haven't you made a statement with regard to this case to Inspector Hanson?—

Mr. Harding—I object to any question that may incriminate this witness.

Mr. Morrell—I have no idea of incriminating the witness.

Mr. Harding—He has asked to be allowed to treat this witness as hostile and it tends towards incriminating him.

His Worship noted Mr. Harding's objections. Witness, proceeding, admitted making a statement to Mr. Hanson, some of the rooms on his floor were engaged that day. People came to room 124 after eleven o'clock. They were a lady and gentleman and they gave him some soiled clothes to send to the wash. At 9.45 they went up to their room in the lift and about a quarter of an hour later they both went out. Next day he saw the man at six in the morning at the door of the room next to 124. About eight o'clock the man told witness not to enter his room as his wife was asleep. The man went downstairs. Witness, never again saw the lady. Witness saw the box produced in the other room. He could not identify the accused.

In cross-examination witness said he had not talked to the other room boys about the case. He was asked to come to the gal and identify a European. Nothing was said to him. He had heard about the murder but he did not know if it was six months or one month ago.

The accused man smiled broadly at some of the answers given by witness.

Witness said the box produced was in the same external condition now as when he saw it enter the hotel on 3rd August. He had no other reason for identifying it except that he had seen it on that day. Witness swore that he was not called upon to open the door after the box had gone. The man was a tall man and the lady was nearly as tall as the man.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL seconded and the motion was agreed to.

COMPANIES' ORDINANCE.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved the first reading of a Bill entitled an Ordinance to amend the law relating to companies.

The COLONIAL SECRETARY seconded, and the motion was agreed to.

THE ESTIMATES.

The COLONIAL SECRETARY moved the second reading of the Bill entitled An Ordinance to amend the law relating to the public service for the year 1908.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL seconded.

The Hon. Mr. HAWES—Your Excellency, the estimates have now been before the unofficial members of the Legislative Council, and having had the advantage of hearing the remarks that Your Excellency made a fortnight ago, the unofficial members have since discussed these estimates and I have been requested to reply for them, though some of the others will have remarks of their own to make. In the first place I think we may sincerely congratulate Your Excellency on the very satisfactory financial condition of the Colony as set forth in the estimates now before us. Of course, as we are aware and as Your Excellency has pointed out, a very considerable proportion of our revenue is of a precarious nature, more particularly that portion derived from land sales and from the opium monopoly. At the present moment it is unquestionable that trade and business in general are very much depressed. If we required any proof of that statement it is found in the fact that all first class stocks and the assessment of property in the city of Victoria is some four per cent below what it was last year. It is very evident that that increasing expenditure and still further reductions in the revenue to which Your Excellency has referred this year and to which your predecessor referred last year may continue and that the whole of the finances of this Colony will have to be reconsidered. There is one point to which I particularly wish to direct attention. I refer to the question of the military contribution. This is a very old and burning question as long ago as the year 1890, when one of my predecessors in this Colony first resisted the imposition of the military contribution by the Home Government upon this Colony. And since then the same gentleman has spoken against it in the House of Commons. Since then it has been repeatedly discussed and unofficial members have repeatedly complained of the excessive amount which we are called upon to pay by means of this military contribution. We are aware that the presence of a garrison adds to our prosperity, but the garrison is not maintained for our purposes but for imperial needs and not entirely for the benefit of the Colony. We do not consider that because we happen to be a crown colony we should be called upon to contribute one-fifth of our total revenue for military contribution, especially when we see self-governing colonies infinitely wealthier than ourselves only having to pay a very trifling amount for nothing at all to wards a military charge. With all due respect to the powers who have levied this exaction upon the Colony I cannot but compare it to the nature of the stand and deliver demand from the highwaymen who suddenly appear before us with a pistol at our heads and says "pay twenty cents in the dollar" while we have the consolation that we have still 80 cents left for our own needs. The question of the military contribution is one which deserves consideration at an early date, for for one thing and have always maintained that it is correct that the Colony should contribute something towards the imperial troops but for a small colony the sum of $1,200,000, as is the amount of our contribution this year, is excessive. There is one charge which falls under the head of military contribution, with which I am entirely in accord. That is the vote of $16,000 towards the Volunteers. I will not repeat what I have already said on this subject. It is very pleasing to learn that recruiting is going on satisfactorily but it is discouraging to find that what the Government proposes to found an infantry company so few of the younger members of the community come forward. I feel very strongly on the subject of the Volunteers from my past experience. I can only trust that the younger members of the Colony will come forward, knowing that the Government is straining every nerve to improve the status of Volunteers, and enlist as they should do. With regard to the Kowloon railway, to which there has been very considerable reference, we are all agreed that it is sound business policy to press forward the construction of that railway as promptly as possible and if Your Excellency during the following year should find it necessary to call for an extra vote to meet the needs of the railway I am quite sure the unofficial members will be only too glad to give it their support. It was hoped that when the railway was commenced that the work would be completed within three years but at the present rate of progress I do not see how it would be completed before five

MOTOR NOTES FROM HOME.

[Written for the Daily Press.]

What a remarkable series of successes stand to the credit of the skillful, nimble car-builders of sunny Italy this season. France weeps for her fallen prestige, for the plums of victory have all been snatched away from her by her southern rivals. At first the fine fleet of flying Fiat had it all their own way, but latterly, thanks to the indomitable pluck of Prince Borghese and the dash and daring of Cagno who last Monday won the last big continental event at the Brescia meeting, the Italia has forged ahead and has been able to clinch the claims of its native country for highly reputable workmanship.

Both Daimlers and Napiers are so well known in the Colonies that all my readers will be interested to learn of a controversy raging between the makers of these cars, as to which can most justly lay claim to the title of hill-climbing champion of Great Britain. I was the innocent cause of this, for in the course of my writings I happened to describe the Daimler car as making superior work of gradients than any other vehicle that had come under my observation. This aroused the ire of the inevitable—Edge, and he has challenged the statement. From the head of Napier I received a list of a dozen successes, in which he claims to have literally wiped up the road with the Coventry car. In fairness to the Daimler Company, therefore, I interviewed Mr. E. M. C. Instone, and so have been able to print in the sporting and illustrated papers I am connected with the case for the prosecution side by side with the Daimler defence.

Briefly the twelve claims to superiority made by Mr. Edge are heavily discounted by the fact that the Daimler cars were almost invariably driven by amateurs, private owners in no way connected with the manufacturers, using ordinary standard touring vehicles, while the Napiers of much higher power and price were with one exception specially constructed cars driven either by Mr. S. F. Edge himself or his brother Cecil. In Mr. Edge's list there was only one case where a privately owned Napier came up against Daimlers, and on that occasion the latter were well to the front while the Napier, though of higher power, only gained 33rd place.

Over and above this in all such sporting events as hill-climbing competitions, it is the first past the post man who is the favourite, who gets the bulk of the cheering, and who provides the most excitement from a spectator's point of view. In this respect I can honestly say that Daimlers have ten victories to their credit to one that Mr. Edge can claim. In the lists of successes referred to above where Mr. Edge has won on the fantastic formulae evolved by the R. A. C. handicappers, I find that in the majority of cases the Daimlers have made fastest times while in more than one instance fastest times on all classes in the programme have been made by the well-known Coventry car.

I think I have said enough to meet the challenge Mr. S. F. Edge has thrown down. The Daimler Company have supplied me with a list of their successes during 1906 and 1907, but this constitutes so many crowded pages of type-written record a special edition of this great and glorious organ will be required unless the editor will his mighty blue pencil. I hold no brief for Daimlers, but I do feel that no more cleanly or sportsmanlike patron of automobilism are to be met with than the amateurs who drive the cars of this make so often to victory in the various hill climbs of Great Britain. To the best of my knowledge not one of them has ever been guilty of the secret use of picric acid, oxygen or any other extraneous aid to the internal combustion engine.

A car wins a hill climb and the buying public, reading the garish advertisements circulated by its makers, expect that its prowess as shown in hill-climbing competitions will be reflected in its every day performances when acute gradients are met with on tour. If oxygen was covertly used when the well-boomed victory was gained the buying public is grossly deceived. What do you, gentle reader in the Far East, know of the tricks of the trade, the fakes and freaks of certain of our pushful motor manufacturers? It must be remembered that oxygen cannot be used by the ordinary amateur, that its use during a tour is impracticable. For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain the motor merchant is indeed peculiar.

I have received reports of the annual meeting of the Automobile Club of Ceylon and I read with sympathy that the native mechanics and drivers (for whom of course quite a bright future must exist) are annoying their masters by suddenly absconding themselves from work or going on strike altogether. It was the same old story with my own "boys" when I was sojourning (for my sins) in the odorous East. And another nuisance I too is noted at the above meeting, that of rikishi coolies adopting the motor horn as an embellishment to their ubiquitous vehicles. It used to be the same with the Chinese Baba on his cheap and nasty cycle in Malaya, and it is pretty much the same with the cad on castors at home. The unwritten law of a bell for a bicycle, and a horn for a motor car should be made concrete on the blue books of the Empire. In spite of its little worries I have to congratulate the Automobile Club of Ceylon upon its 180 members and general prosperity.

I have often referred to the Automobile Association in phrases of eulogy, for their corps of scouts who patrol the roads in order to warn motorists of the proximity of police traps serve a most useful purpose, and any colonial touring in this country will save both money and time and temper by sporting an A. A. badge on his dash board. It is most regrettable that the Motor Union, an offspring of the R. A. C. should have been fit to have trespassed upon the preserves of the A. A. to have slavishly imitated its badge, and, and policy, and to have entered into such hostile competition with it, but a fight to the finish with the two bodies is inevitable. The war has already broken out and is viewed by all sensible motorists as a regrettable rupture that can only prove a brake on the wheels of progress.

Important commercial vehicle trials began today at Chislewick with a preliminary inspection by the judges. Most of the best known industrial car makers are represented, and on Monday sixty vans, lorries and drays will start out on an arduous tour of the Midlands. As commercial vehicles are of particular interest to colonials I shall give comments upon the trials in my next week's budget.

THE CUBICLE QUESTION.

The report of the committee appointed to consider and make suggestions for dealing with the Cubicle question, was yesterday laid before the Legislative Council by Command of His Excellency the Governor.

The report was as follows:—

Recommendations agreed to by the Committee appointed by His Excellency the Governor to consider and make suggestions for dealing with the Cubicle question, were as follows:—

1. Cubicles must be permitted in houses.

2. As regards construction of cubicles, wood, metal or other material approved by the Building Authority should be laid down as the rule, subject to such being painted, whitewashed or otherwise kept clean to the satisfaction of the Sanitary Board.

3. As regards dimensions of such, the present limits prescribed by Section 154 should be adhered to, with the discretion presently existing and exercised by the Sanitary Board but without the necessity for the consent of the Governor-in-Council.

4. The conditions of the construction and maintenance of cubicles in existing houses should be left to the discretion of the Sanitary Board, without reference to the Governor-in-Council.

In the above connection the Board is recommended to exercise to the full extent its discretion provided for in the proviso to section 154 of the Principal Ordinances in the direction of permitting as many cubicles as is expedient on all floors including the ground floor or after inspection of the premises by competent officers. The number of cubicles allowed on each floor should be painted up conspicuously on such floor. An addition should be made to the law in the shape of a proviso to Section 46, viz:—Any room not containing a cubicle may be inhabited to the extent of one adult person to every 30 square feet of floor space and 330 cubic feet of air space.

Sub-section 153 (b) 3 should be amended to permit the occupation of an occupant's office in a shop by not more than two persons at night.

5. In regard to re-erected houses, cubicles should be allowed in the same manner and to the same extent as in existing houses.

The words "or re-erected" should be struck out of Section 153 sub-section (a) and the following added:—"on any site which is now vacant or which is now occupied by domestic buildings of a European type or by any non-domestic building."

This will permit cubicles in re-erected houses of the tenement class, but will prohibit them in new houses on sites hitherto occupied by tenement houses of the ordinary Chinese type. The Building Authority should have power by law to require that, in the case of domestic buildings erected on such sites, if intended for Chinese tenements, provision be made for the subdivision of each story above the ground story into rooms of a suitable area, the idea being to insist upon a proper provision of window space in such houses either laterally, or in such other manner as the architect may be able to devise.

6. No question of compensation arises in connection with any of the foregoing recommendations.

7. Government should undertake the demolition of the upper floors of every third house in blocks of Chinese tenements repayment of the expenditure incurred being made by the owners of the adjoining houses in respect of the improvements to their property by means of annual instalments extended over a period of years and calculated at such rate of interest as to ultimately recoup the Government for all its outlay.

The houses left standing will, if paragraph 5 is acted upon, legally house the persons displaced from the buildings so demolished.

Provided that any other scheme recommended by the Sanitary Board may be carried out in lieu of the above.

10th August, 1907.

With regard to para. 9 I am unable to agree with the report. My personal experience in carrying out works upon old Chinese buildings leads me to believe that it will be, in a great majority of cases, impracticable—for structural reasons—or only practicable at the expense of what would amount to a rebuilding.

These old works, however, provided for most lead to a considerable increase of rentals—to be paid for out of the meagre earnings of the coolie and artisan class—and I am not satisfied that the community, and especially the poorer Chinese section of it, will profit proportionately by this further increase in the cost of living here.

EDWARD A. RAM.

I agree to the recommendations as a means of improving the housing of the working classes but I do not agree that they, of themselves, are sufficient to eradicate Plague which in my opinion can only be effected by more frequent and thorough cleansing and the destruction of rats and vermin.

EDWARD OSBORNE.

I am in accord with Messrs. Ram and Osborne, and sign the recommendation in the hope that it may bring some improvement in the future. I consider however that § 154 of the Public Health and Buildings Ordinance No. 1 of 1903 (as amended by Ordinances 29 and 23 of 1905) with its proviso would have properly met the case, assuming of course that the Sanitary Department carried out its duties in an intelligent manner.

In the past, however, the Sanitary Board by striking closely to the letter of the law, and without taking the responsibility of exercising its judgment, has harassed the Chinese into a manner of expedients to obtain a certain amount of privacy and decency for themselves, such expedients being far worse than the evils with which the Ordinance was intended to deal.

In support of my opinion I quote the following official reply dated 25th July, 1907, to my enquiry as to how often the terms of the proviso had been availed of since the Sanitary Board

"The number of cases in which the Sanitary Board have recommended to the Governor in Council modifications of or exemption from the requirements of § 154 of the Public Health and Buildings Ordinance, 1903, is as follows:—

1903, ... ..	4 Applications.
1904, ... ..	4
1905, ... ..	none.
1906, ... ..	3
1907, ... ..	24

There are well over 5,000 Chinese tenement houses in which cubicles are used. It would be absurd to suggest that one hard and fast rule could be usefully made applicable to them all; much more so to endeavour to enforce it.

HENRY KESWICK.

Colonial Secretary's Office.

Hongkong, 3rd May, 1907.

I am directed to invite the attention of the Sanitary Board to the proviso contained in Section 154 of the Public Health and Buildings Ordinance which to judge from representations recently made to Government does not appear to have been availed of by the Board to deal with the cubicle question. I am now to suggest as a practical means for giving as much latitude in the use of the cubicles as is compatible with reasonable sanitary requirements to the poorer classes of Chinese inhabiting tenement houses, that the Board by means of some of its officers institute a house inspection and decide what number of cubicles might reasonably be allowed to be erected and maintained in each floor, and thereafter make recommendations accordingly for modification or exemption by the Governor-in-Council.

I am, etc.,

A. M. THOMSON,

Colonial Secretary.

The Secretary,

SANITARY BOARD.
